Sources of Income

Maximum permitted income is defined as the gross income received annually from all sources by wage earners in a family or household unit. Sources of income include, but are not necessarily limited to the following:

- 1) Wages and Salary
- 2) Child Support
- 3) Alimony
- 4) Interest from savings/checking
- 5) Dividends from stock/bonds certificates
- 6) Social Security benefits
- 7) Veterans Administration benefits
- 8) Overtime
- 9) Unemployment insurance
- 10) Bonus payment
- 11) Commissions/tips
- 12) Pension/retirement payment
- 13) Disability benefits
- 14) Any other annuities or stipends received
- 15) Income from Real Estate Investments. Losses generated from investments in real estate will not be used to reduce gross annual income.
- 16) Income from a business or partnership owned, associated with or initiated by a member of the household.
- 17) Regular gifts or contributions from persons not residing in the dwelling as long as there is a documented two year history.
- 18) Net income from business operations, exclusive of amortization of capital indebtedness. Depreciation based on straight line method is an acceptable expense. Three years federal tax returns are required to document such income.

Section III

Other Housing Programs

When the requirement to provide Affordable Dwelling Units is met through the construction of federal Public Housing or housing constructed under other equivalent Federal, State, or local programs to assist low and moderate income families, the income limits of the appropriate program will prevail, except that the income limits for such programs must be no higher than those specified in Section I above in order for the program to be considered equivalent to the ADU program.

Section IV

Revision

These income limits will be revised periodically by the Fairfax County Redevelopment and Housing Authority when a new median income for the Washington, D.C. Metropolitan Statistical Area is published by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Effective Date

These provisions take effect on March 22, 2002.
